Base text: Ephesians 4:11-13, 15

To be like Christ is...

- To believe what he believed
- To behave how he behaved
- To do what he did
- To join him in his mission

Is our church making real disciples of Christ, like the kind Jesus made? Or is everyone just busy doing church?

If being transformed into Christ-likeness is the primary work of the church, what's the best way to do it?

Christ-like transformation happens best when...

- Discipleship is an expectation
- There is a simple and intentional plan
- The Word and the Spirit are joined
- Friends drink coffee, seek God, and dream together about how God can use them

How can I partner with God's Spirit in my personal transformation toward Christ-likeness?

House churches/small groups...

- Worship together
- Pray together
- Study the Word together
- Share life together
- Do mission together

Passionately loving God. Radically loving others.
